Confederate Murderer Arrested

[illegible], June 26.—Henry A. Parr, who [illegible] from St. Johns, N. B., yesterday, [illegible] arrested on a charge of murder [illegible] on board the steamer Chesapeake [illegible] bound for Portland, Me., December [illegible] Parr was one of the seventeen [illegible] who took possession of the [illegible] in the name of the confederacy, shooting the engineer and throwing the body [illegible]

Ohio Democratic Convention

[illegible], June 26.—The Democratic state convention met in the Opera House [illegible] A. T. Willing was chosen temporary chairman, and Frank Kelly of [illegible] secretary. After appointing committees the convention took a recess.

The convention reassembled at 2 P. M. [illegible] Ward was chosen permanent chairman, and E. B. Dodd, of Toledo, secretary. The following ticket was nominated: For secretary of state, David R. Page; supreme judge, J. P. Hume.

The following platform was adopted:

The democratic party of Ohio reaffirms the [illegible] adheres to the platform of the convention of 1877. Pledges of devotion to the Union and [illegible] with amendments. It declares [illegible] to the preservation of the government [illegible] adherence to the following principles: [illegible] home rule, supremacy of the civil over military power, separation of church and state, equality of all citizens before the law, [illegible] individual action unvexed by sumptuary laws, absolute acquiescence in the lawfully expressed will of the majority, opposition to all [illegible] preservation of public lands for the use of actual settlers and maintenance and protection of the [illegible] school system as pertinent to issues [illegible] before the people. Investigation of the frauds committed at the presidential election in Florida or Louisiana ought to have been made by the electoral commission. Its refusal to do so was a violation of the spirit of the law under which it was organized and a gross insult to the people of the United States, and whilst the decision as made by the [illegible] congress of the question as to who was declared president of the United States for the presidential term was in our judgment final, that decision ought not to preclude an investigation and exposure of all frauds connected with that election and the due [illegible] of all who were guilty of being [illegible] them.

Illinois Republican Convention.

[illegible], Ill., June 26.—The Republican convention was called to order at noon by A. C. Babcock, chairman of the state committee. Wm. A. James, of Lake, was chosen temporary chairman and [illegible] the chair briefly recalled the [illegible] triumphs of the Republican party [illegible] and national crisis and urged [illegible] no weak or uncertain timber in the platform which was to be constructed by [illegible]

[illegible] appointment of usual committees, the convention took a recess till 2 o'clock.

On reassembling none of the committees being ready to report, a speech was made by [illegible], after which the committee on permanent organization reported C. E. Lippincott for president, with a long list of vice presidents. Candidates for state superintendent of public instruction were then put in nomination and Slade was nominated on the [illegible] ballot. The platform declares faith in the [illegible] and patriotism of the Republican party, state and national, and in its permanence and ability over all other parties to administer the government of both state and nation wisely and successfully. [illegible] democratic party being largely composed of recent rebels, and their sympathizers [illegible] safely entrusted with the administration of the government. The permanent pacification of the southern section of the [illegible] complete protection of all its citizens in their civil, political, personal and property rights is a duty to which the party is sacredly pledged. In order to redeem [illegible] placed the recent amendment [illegible] constitution of the United States and [illegible] base of said amendments [illegible] in the work of pacification [illegible] shall come through right doing [illegible] through justice, that the [illegible] shall be amended for the protection of depositors in savings banks by providing for the punishment of dishonest bank [illegible] finally, be it resolved that [illegible] the country should govern [illegible] those who attempted to [illegible]. "The platform" was unanimously [illegible]

[illegible] Smith was nominated for state [illegible] on the second ballot.

[illegible] are the nominations for clerks of the supreme court: Northern grand division, [illegible] Dutton; central division, M. B. [illegible]; southern division, Aden Knoph.

Homicide.

Gold in Georgia.

[illegible], June 26.—Gorham Blake, of [illegible], who made a fortune in the California mines, lately bought a tract of land in Georgia, prospecting it for gold and paid [illegible] for it. The property is undeveloped. [illegible] Blake proposes to work it on an extensive scale. There have been reported [illegible] sales of Georgia gold properties lately, and [illegible] is said to be thronged with [illegible]

Indian Outrage.

[illegible], June 26.—Last Sunday the Indians made their first demonstration of hostility [illegible] season by firing upon citizens of [illegible] who were on a hunting trip near [illegible], thirty miles from here. The party had killed an antelope and were fastening it [illegible] when two shots were fired and [illegible] close proximity to them. They dropped their antelope and made [illegible] escape, followed by several more shots from the hostiles, five of whom were in [illegible]. Yesterday the three men made their way [illegible] in Galena City, at Bear Butte. [illegible] reported that a band of about fifteen Indians [illegible] run them in. Gen. Bradley and [illegible] are in the vicinity of Redwater, [illegible] doubtless soon come in contact with the roaming bands of hostiles.

Murder and Suicide.

[illegible], June 26.—At Bronson, Michigan, [illegible] night, Samuel Whittaker shot his [illegible] and afterwards killed himself. Domestic [illegible] was the cause.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Depredations on Public Lands

[illegible], June 26.—The Journal's Washington [illegible] says owing to the small appropriation made by congress to detect and punish [illegible] upon the public lands, Secretary [illegible] does not expect to be able to do much [illegible] direction this year. It is thought, [illegible] that the seizures and arrests heretofore [illegible] will serve to check the operations of [illegible] persons who were engaged in a [illegible] manner in destroying the timber on the public lands.

Price of Silver

The treasury department is offered silver at about 52 cents an ounce, making [illegible] of the silver dollar about 88 cents. [illegible] sellers of the bullion take silver certificates [illegible] pay and then sell them to persons [illegible] to pay customs duties, so that practically the government gains nothing by paying silver instead of gold.

THE POTTER INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, June [illegible]

Continuation of Marshall Tucker's [illegible] [illegible] you had prior to the time of the presidential contest or thereabouts, please state to the committee what conversation, if any, you recall as having [illegible] to any suggestions made to [illegible] him and [illegible] [illegible]

A—[illegible] four days prior to [illegible] meeting of the electoral [illegible] private [illegible] expected some overtures were to be made to him by somebody in Democratic interests. I don't recall whether [illegible] [illegible] a great deal of hazard [illegible] to any motives and I want some one [illegible] whom I can confide and who will stand sponsor for me in case any misrepresentation should [illegible] I advised him to go on and to appear to listen to the overtures, and I think impressed upon him the importance of going [illegible] the agents who might offer any bribes. After that he made two or three visits up to the time of the meeting of the electoral college and mentioned the names of Walter [illegible], Mr. Asher, and possibly Mr. Hernandez, but I am not sure as to that. I think it was at the last interview on this subject that he told me that he had a meeting with one of these gentlemen and that he met with his companion a third gentleman, and that the distinct proposition had been made as I now recollect of $[illegible]. This was at the last interview. He said he had made an appointment at such an hour which I had almost approached [illegible] he wanted to stay with me in the office. I went outside and [illegible] the usher to allow no one [illegible] the office and to report [illegible] I was locked and he remained there till shortly before the assembling of the electoral college. [illegible] that [illegible] would be there in a short time. I think I sent him down with my own cab. I am not sure about that. Furthermore I know nothing.

Q. Do you know of the borrowing of [illegible] was paid by note on the Union National Bank of Chicago.

A. No sir, all the funds I know about were two or three thousand dollars sent [illegible] Chandler in the latter part of January, and a greater part was spent sustaining the Metropolitan police in [illegible] the state [illegible]

Q. Were not telegrams sent to New Orleans stating that troops and money would be furnished?

A—We had a voluminous correspondence with parties in Washington regarding the election, but [illegible] on that point.

Q. At the time you had the conversation with Anderson here in July at the show [illegible] certain papers [illegible] to put the [illegible] in the custody of Gen. Butler?

A. I may possibly have said that.

Q. What was your object in advising him?

A. Well I have conferred with Gen. Butler regarding political matters for many years and he has been a warm friend of mine and I thought it was a matter he might know about. I had no personal [illegible] so I afterwards telegraphed or wrote to Anderson in September or October that [illegible] might take a different [illegible] this matter if he or his counsel would [illegible] it and I may have said I would pay his expenses to Washington if he would come and bring the papers.

Q. Did you have any interviews with any members of the returning board during the count?

A—Yes sir. I met Gov. Wells on the street and inquired about the condition of affairs and he said something like this: That it was all right, and the same day I addressed a telegram to Senator West communicating what Wells had said. I think that was the only time I had any conversation with a member of the returning board.

Q. Do you know whether the members of the returning board required any assurances of reward to enable them to go on with the count?

A—Nothing to my knowledge.

WASHINGTON, June [illegible]

Mrs Jenks was before the Potter committee again to-day and said she may have letters from Senator Kellogg not yet submitted to the committee but declines to produce them without the consent of that gentleman, which that gentleman gave through Judge Shellabarger. The senator added that he was desirous of having any and all correspondence between himself and Mrs. Jenks laid before the committee. Mrs. Jenks then said the letters were in New Orleans and she would produce them as soon as possible. [illegible] Anderson's letters I have not yet [illegible] [illegible] tated the Sherman letter to another party and wished the committee to distinctly understand that she herself did not write it.

Q. Who was the person to whom you dictated the letter?

A. Mr Chairman I must decline to tell that. It would not be [illegible] It was a person prominent in Louisiana local politics. I saw him probably six months ago. He may be dead now for what I know. He was a kind of Republican. The first draft of the letter was too elaborate for witness' taste, but the second draft suited better. Witness did not show either draft to Weber, [illegible] mentioned the fact of the first draft to any one until in this room. Witness asked McMahon with an air of haughtiness if there were any more lame, blind or halt [illegible] as witnesses in [illegible] If so he had better go out upon the highways and bring them in.

McMahon said: "You know Mrs. Jenks there are none so blind as those that will not see." Mrs. Jenks was informed that two letters awaited her in the house post office and she was released to get them.

Witness testified that the first draft of the Sherman letter had been drawn up in such a way as to identify [illegible] Scolie [illegible] that this she objected to and her associate [illegible] to dictate a second draft which was the one used. The other was destroyed. She did not [illegible] either of the letters to Weber.

[illegible] Haley recalled. Testified he had several conversations in January and February last with Mrs. Jenks regarding the Sherman letter [illegible] at that time [illegible] she was in Washington in behalf of Gov. Packard for collector [illegible] [illegible] Mrs. Jenks [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Jenks ever say [illegible] the original of the Sherman letter?

Answer: Yes sir [illegible]

Further Details of the Bernard Fight

San Francisco, June 26.—A Silver City, I. T., dispatch says the assault made by Bernard upon the Indians at Curry creek turns out to be a success. It was a surprise to the savages, about 40 of whom were killed. The soldiers were very cool in the charges. The Indian force present was estimated at 700 but was probably not so large. The Indians retreated to their stronghold in Stein mountain.

A Reminiscence of the Assassination of Lincoln

Tribune's Washington, June 21

An eye witness relates that on the night of the assassination a private dinner party was in progress in a back room at Welcker's restaurant in Washington, at which were present General Baird, Robert Johnson, Samuel J. Randall, John Morrissey, John F. Coyle, editor of the National Intelligencer, and one other gentleman. During the progress of the dinner a waiter who had been out on the street returned and stated that the president had been shot at Ford's theater. The news created great consternation in the party, who at first thought the waiter was drunk or crazy. Later when they were assured that it was a fact and that John Wilkes Booth was accused of the crime, Coyle, with blanched features and trembling lips said:

"My God gentlemen, this very day I met John Wilkes Booth on Market Space. He was on a bay mare and rode up to me and handed me a sealed envelope saying as he did so: 'If you hear of me within twenty-four hours, [illegible] this. If you do not hear of me within that time destroy this,' and rode away. Here is the package," continued Coyle, producing a letter envelope from his pocket. "What shall I do with it?"

"Destroy it at once," said Randall. "They will hang anybody who knows anything about the assassination, no matter how innocently they may have come by their knowledge. Don't open it. Burn it up just as it is."

"Yes," said Morrissey, "burn it up, for God's sake, at once."

The doors were carefully locked. A fire was made in the grate and the mysterious envelope and its contents very carefully burned. Even the ashes were carefully collected and placed in a dish. Water was poured upon them and the two were mixed into a paste, which was afterwards put into the fire and burned again.

A Horrible Ceremony.

Yankton (Dak.) Special, June [illegible]

The young men at Spotted Tail's camp are just concluding their annual sun dance and the barbarous festival has been one of more than ordinary success. Forty-eight candidates passed through the terrible ordeal of self torture and are entitled to full diplomas as warriors of unquestioned bravery. The candidate for honors cuts two longitudinal slits down each breast. One end of a lariat is passed under the strip of skin and flesh left between the incisions tightly tied and the other end is made fast to the top of a high pole. The candidate then throws himself backward with his weight upon the lariat and the dance goes on until the flesh gives way. Should he fail to break loose in the manner prescribed or should he faint during the operation he is forever disgraced. The sun dance just closed was held about fifty [illegible] back from the Missouri river and was witnessed by about [illegible] Indians and [illegible] whites. Old Spotted Tail was master of [illegible] and from the manner in which the [illegible] [illegible] Spotted Tail's Indians are now [illegible] the new agency.

[illegible] silver continues to decline in London. Last quotations were 52[illegible] per ounce.

THE INDIAN QUESTION—ITS HOPEFUL SIGNS

[illegible] struggle of [illegible] [illegible] extermination [illegible]

[illegible] band left their camp on Camas prairie where they were [illegible] supply of [illegible] in June a year ago [illegible] One of the young men whose father was killed on Salmon river by a white man [illegible] the man who killed [illegible] and three others with him. This is the first murder the Indians committed. The next day they returned to the camp and it is said they openly told what they had [illegible] Salmon river and induced young men to join them to kill more whites on Camas prairie, although the chiefs tried all they could to prevent any further depredations, but all was to no purpose. The next night [illegible] more Indians joined and killed more white men at Camas prairie. Thus the war with Chief Joseph and his band commences. This is the account given to Mr. Barstow by [illegible] Reuben [illegible] teacher at Lapwai [illegible] school, and a [illegible] General Howard [illegible] those Indians fled into Montana. It bears the marks of truth and agrees in substance with other accounts given at that time.

Had such murderers been committed in the [illegible] territory the civil government could [illegible] both white and Indian [illegible] would have seized, tried and punished the murderers, first the white man who slew the Indian's father and then the Indian who [illegible] white murderer and his friends. [illegible] every murderer responsible to his own [illegible] would have prevented other murders and saved the community from disturbance and even from [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] Indian war cannot occur [illegible] British dominions.

The American [illegible] sight of the [illegible] [illegible] responsible [illegible] to arrest and punish the [illegible] for his crimes against the Indian [illegible] for war and excites other tribes [illegible] months is a year it cost [illegible] lives, and [illegible] $[illegible]000 in [illegible] general alarm and suspense of the whole community.

The commissioner of Indian affairs testifies that "During the forty years prior to 1868 the cost of Indian wars without including the destruction of private property was not less than $500,000,000, or an average of $12,500,000 per year. The great Sioux war of 1852 [illegible] cost the government $40,000,000 without improving our relations with those Indians. In 1854 and 1855 the cost of [illegible] by the army in Oregon [illegible] was $[illegible]. The Cheyenne war caused by the barbarous massacre at Sand Creek, besides immense loss of property and life, cost the government $3[illegible],000,000 and the lives of many soldiers. And the war that broke out again in 186[illegible] by reason of an unprovoked assault [illegible] peaceful Indians [illegible] two years at a cost of $[illegible]."

A blunder in our policy is like a misplaced switch. The wreck and death and losses are [illegible] the whole length of the train. So our national blunder in dealing with the Indian tribes instead of individual Indians has been a prolonged series of severe wars, deaths and losses for more than two centuries and the present year even this four [illegible] is long train of horrors. The Bannocks were starving at the [illegible] agency in April last. They turned [illegible] to their old camps [illegible] A conflict doubtless ensued with herders on their plains. The result is a deadly war of extermination.

This policy of breeding Indian wars annually out of the crimes of individuals has no element of justice, mercy or hope. "War is [illegible] as it [illegible]" is the truth from the lips of General Sherman.

HOPEFUL SIGNS FROM ANOTHER QUARTER

[illegible] treaties were made with many tribes [illegible] Oregon and Washington with provisions for the survey of their reservations and the allotment of small farms to Indian families with the pledge of patents [illegible] title to individuals in severalty. A part of these surveys and allotments were made. The law is still in force. Steps are taken to secure the patents. Special attention is called to these treaty stipulations by the general commanding the department of the Columbia. Their completion is urged as a war measure in order to satisfy the just claims of those Indians who have improved their farms and who desire peace and who will thus become a strong barrier against any and every hostile band.

Another fact is the right of every Indian under the amended constitution. The Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments to the constitution gave every American without distinction of race or color or previous condition of bondage all the rights of citizens. The judiciary committee of the senate affirmed that the Indian can become a citizen by abandoning his tribal relations. The negro became a citizen at once by the acts [illegible] The question arises whether the American Indian did not also become a citizen by the act itself. If he may do it by simply taking oath before a magistrate, viz: "I renounce my tribal relations and claim my rights as an American," what is there in the Amendments to forbid the census taker or assessor from counting him a citizen as it does the negro? In either case the citizenship is placed in his own hand by the constitution and beyond the reach of all Indian policies or congressional laws. These amendments at one blow broke the yoke of negro slavery and of the Indian tribal bondage. It is a strange anomaly that continues the latter bondage in national legislation since it is possible for the entire population of the Indian territory and of every state to assert their freedom from tribal relations and to claim their individual rights as citizens.

The 15th and 16th sections of the act of congress of March [illegible] 1875 extend the benefits of the homestead act of May 20, 1862, and the acts amendatory thereof to the Indian and to his family if he will accept them. The [illegible] may be taken, why put the burden upon the Indian to abandon his tribal relation, which requires in him more courage than to go to battle? Why not declare the tribes annulled and void in law by judicial decision or by act of congress under the late amendments, instead of asking the poor Indian to take [illegible] and [illegible] abandoning it? [illegible] very much like saying it [illegible] already in [illegible] The area of citizenship has taken in the [illegible] Indian [illegible]

[illegible] Indian commissioners in their [illegible] annual report [illegible] 1877 [illegible] [illegible] of the Indian [illegible] question is the abrogation of all Indian [illegible] with all the rights and duties in [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] by law.

[illegible]

[illegible] for the support of [illegible]

The consolidation of agencies and reduction of expenses.

The secretary of the interior in his annual report [illegible] the [illegible] Sioux [illegible] admitted to the benefits of the [illegible] [illegible] the laws be extended over [illegible] that the laws be established [illegible] [illegible] are a varied post [illegible] [illegible] and humanity.

These results, say the commissioners, in industry, education and Christianity in the short space of nine years confirms our belief often expressed in former reports, that the [illegible] policy is the only right policy.

Further most hopeful sign of the solution of this problem is the Indian's own action. They begin to know and to assert titles to their lands as [illegible] They [illegible] their rights [illegible] the law [illegible] from the [illegible] citizens [illegible] rights awarded to [illegible] laws.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The St Paul Pioneer says that a train of [illegible] with [illegible] brought [illegible] Minnesota [illegible] to Washington territory.

The committee on boundary in the Washington constitutional convention have reported in favor of boundaries which will include the three counties of Northern Idaho in the new state.

Just now the boats are taking very heavy freights up the Snake river. The larger portion of these freights are landed at Almota, which seems to be the principal point of distribution for the Palouse country.

The State [illegible] says: Walla Walla valley has often been compared in point of climate to the valley of the Sacramento. This year the comparison will certainly hold good, as the crops are literally being burnt up by the intense heat and absence of rain.

Walla Walla Union: Lieut. C. A. Williams, 21st infantry, arrived here last Saturday with instructions to procure Indian scouts and [illegible] Gen. Howard in his operations against the Bannacks. So far he has been unable to procure any. The Warm Spring Indians demand $[illegible]00 per month [illegible] which will not be paid. The Umatillas will not fight the Bannacks and the Nez Perces are [illegible] to hold similar views.

A Contradiction by Gen. Grant

Gen. Grant was recently reported by a correspondent as having spoken disparagingly of Stonewall Jackson while at Constantinople. Col. Mosby of Virginia wrote to Gen. Grant inquiring if he had used the language attributed to him. Gen. Grant, writing under date of Paris, May 25th, in reply, says:

"You say I am reported as speaking disparagingly of Stonewall Jackson by one correspondent. I have not seen that. I knew Jackson when he was a cadet, served with him in the Mexican war and know that he enjoyed the confidence and respect of all who knew him. He was regarded as a man of great ability, great perseverance and great piety. Whatever he did he did conscientiously, no matter whether it was right or wrong. I have compared him in conversation with Cromwell. It is probable that I have said as much to you about Jackson as I ever have to any correspondent."

Attendance of Senators.

Graphic's Washington Special

An examination of the Congressional Record shows that Senator Sargent has not been absent a day nor missed a roll call during the entire session of nearly seven months. Windom was absent only one day, and Blaine only parts of two days, although the newspapers have twice announced that Blaine was lying dangerously ill at his residence. Blaine thinks he has made a pretty good record for a man who is represented to be broken in health. He says he never felt better or stronger in his life than now. Cockrell has been the most regular attendant on the Democratic side of the senate. Sharon has not been in Washington during the session. His pay and mileage, amounting to over $8,000, lies untouched in the office of the disbursing clerk of the senate, and his friends say he will not draw it.

Taft Looks for Grant Again.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer

Ex-Attorney General Taft, of Cincinnati, deprecates the idea of a third term, yet such an occurrence appears to him now as one of the apparent certainties of the future. Judge Taft thought the heartiness of the welcome given to Grant's name in the Ohio convention was a strange contrast to the efforts made to secure an indorsement of Rutherford Hayes.

A Winnemucca letter of the 10th says: Ordinary mail matter from the east for Boise and the country above is transferred to stages at Kelton, Utah, but when the Indian hostilities began the postoffice department ordered it sent via Winnemucca, and since the theater of war changed to southwestern Idaho and southeastern Oregon a ton or more of letters and papers has accumulated at this office, which was sent back to Kelton by express train this morning.

THURSDAY MORNING JUNE [illegible] 1878

THE EUROPEAN CONGRESS.

It cannot escape the notice of any who read the European dispatches how active and incessant the partisans of Beaconsfield are in claiming great triumphs for him in the Berlin congress. It might indeed appear that he had wrested from Russia all the fruits of the war and that the representative of the czar at the congress was on his knees before him imploring him to [illegible] the last shred of its glory and humiliation. From dispatches [illegible] period is being [illegible] that he was taking Gortschakoff as his man a word to the [illegible] that flew [illegible] the Russian [illegible] but the [illegible] which has actually taken place in the congress affords nothing to support the extraordinary claims put forth in behalf of the English minister. Russia is not annihilated nor is there to be a restoration of Turkey as it existed before the war. The northern boundary of the Ottoman empire is fixed at the Balkan. All Bulgaria is taken away from the empire and the suzerainty of the sultan over Roumania is abolished. Turkey is also forced to make concessions to Servia and Montenegro. Russia makes great gains in Armenia and on the eastern shores of the Black Sea. The whole line of impregnable fortresses along the Danube is, of course, lost to Turkey, and Shumla goes to Bulgaria with the rest. Varna also, the great port on the western coast of the Black Sea is to be included in the same province, and throughout Roumelia south of the Balkan there are to be such reforms of administration as will prevent the the Mussulman from oppressing the Christian population. True, the congress is not consenting that Russia shall have Constantinople. Inasmuch as nobody supposed it would, and still further, since Russia did not ask it and had no right to expect it it does not appear that the English minister has the right to claim any great glory on this point. The results of the war, which are being confirmed by the congress are a great restriction of the Ottoman empire and in fact its virtual dismemberment. Russia has made on this occasion the longest stride she has ever taken toward Constantinople. For the present she can rest here, with better opportunity to renew the movement on favorable occasion than at any time for two centuries.

The New York Tribune's sagacious London correspondent comments on the absurd claims of the ministerial newspapers in behalf of the diplomacy of Beaconsfield and says that what Russia is alleged to have been forced to concede proves on examination to be consistent with the retention of nearly every important advantage aimed at in the treaty of San Stefano. So indeed it would appear when we consider how Turkey is compelled to give up provinces, cities, ports and fortresses, and how her boundary both in Europe and Asia is contracted and that of Russia virtually advanced. For these provinces wrested from Turkey, though their autonomy is conceded, will actually be about the same as Russian provinces. Representatives of Turkey expressed the actual situation some days ago when they said it would be just as well for them to withdraw from the congress and fall back on the treaty of San Stefano, for notwithstanding all the boasting in behalf of Beaconsfield's grand diplomacy it does not appear that Turkey gains anything. The London correspondent before referred to adds: "From the beginning what Beaconsfield has aimed at is not so much a fruitful triumph as a showy triumph. He has cared less for a real victory than for the appearance of a victory; less for reducing the limits of General Ignatieff's Bulgaria than for enlarging the hem of the tory garment in which he has persuaded England to masquerade for a while for his own glory." The Tribune editorially says: "Beaconsfield made a dramatic entry into Berlin. His corps of correspondents are heralding his triumphs. But he will fail to meet the expectations of the audience he has left behind him if he secures no larger concessions than those which form the basis of the understanding between the Russian and British courts." And the journal from which we are quoting says this is the man who sketched himself in one of his novels, "Tancred." "He became habituated to the idea that everything could be achieved by dexterity, and that there was no test of conduct except success. He was never without a resource. He lived in a labyrinth of plans and he rejoiced to involve some one in the perplexities which his magic touch could alone unravel." When he grandly says that he didn't go to Berlin to make concessions and yet leaves Turkey stripped of half her former territory and all her great fortresses we may well imagine that the talk is of that kind which we describe by a word not in the vocabulary of English politics or diplomacy. It is buncombe, intended for consumption at home.

A VIEW OF THE INDIAN QUESTION.

Among the reports on various subjects called for by the Congregational Association of Oregon and Washington at its session held at Oregon City last week was one on the Indian question. This report, which was prepared by Dr Atkinson, we print to-day. It touches points which seem to us vital to the solution of this troublesome question. These may be comprehended in the simple formula —Break up tribal relations, attach the Indian to the soil and extend over him as an individual the advantages and penalties of the laws. As rapidly as we move in this direction just so rapidly shall we tend to the settlement of this most annoying problem. Indians who own houses and cultivate fields will not engage in lawless and hostile enterprises, because they cannot afford it. The statistics of progress presented in this report show that it is not impossible to induce the Indians to work. Increase of products of their labor is shown to be rapid, which is proof that more and more of them are being taught habits of industry. When the greater number shall have been advanced to this point the whole question will be practically settled. It should, therefore, be the policy of the government to settle the Indians on [illegible] lands as rapidly as possible. This cannot be done for all of them [illegible] but a [illegible] may be made [illegible] may be added to it. We must commend the view of the subject presented in this report and join with those who are urging it upon [illegible] States.

The Klickitat Sun is the name of a weekly paper just started at Goldendale, W. T. It is published by [illegible] Campbell. Another [illegible] rapid improvement of our country is afforded [illegible] in the fact that in [illegible] where only a very short time ago there was scarcely a white inhabitant lived, towns have now sprung up which number their newspapers among their signs of prosperity and advancement. Mr Campbell has hit upon the proper idea for such an enterprise as he has undertaken. He says: "My main object will be to give the people of this county a reliable local newspaper." Adherence to such a purpose will win. Often there is an effort to make a general rather than a local newspaper in such a situation, and in consequence the undertaking fails. A clearer perception of what is wanted and what is possible [illegible] success [illegible] newspaper [illegible] the [illegible] and news of its own locality. We shall expect [illegible].

A H Stephens has written a letter to a [illegible] newspaper of Georgia in which he [illegible] by the [illegible] of his district to terminate his congressional career because of his stand [illegible] the movement [illegible] committee which evidently was intended [illegible] with a view to laying a foundation for ousting him. He will therefore appeal directly to the people of his district and let them decide the issue at the polls. Toombs telegraphs Stephens thus: "In your race for the eighth district I am with you to the last extremity." Some of the principal newspapers of the district have pronounced directly against him and no doubt he will fail to get the party nomination, but he will run as an independent candidate seeking no nomination whatever.

The commissioners appointed to represent the United States at the international silver conference are Francis A. Walker of Cincinnati, William S. Groesbeck of Ohio and Reuben Fenton (ex-Senator) of New York. Walker and Fenton are said to be in favor of a single gold standard. This caused an objection to be raised to their confirmation. At first the nomination of Fenton was rejected. But Conkling, who happened to be absent when the vote was taken, came in and moved to reconsider and finally succeeded in getting Fenton confirmed. This action of Conkling toward his old political rival and enemy was very noticeable.

Mrs Jenks is adding new lustre to the name immortalized by the poet who tells us that Captain Jenks of the horse marines fed his horse on pork and beans and that though he always lived above his means he was disposed to be at once gallant and genial by teaching the ladies how to dance, for he was the swell of the army. Talent or luck runs in families. For here is Mrs Captain Jenks distancing all competitors in the art of being a witness. Even Gen Butler is browbeaten and nonplused by the overwhelming facility of her waspish tongue. The poet may now revise his work and hail the name of Jenks with new honors.

The San Francisco Chronicle thinks the governor of Oregon should call out a supplementary military force to cooperate with the United States troops. We think not, unless the situation should become more serious for our people than at present. It is duty of the United States to subdue the Indians, and Oregon, unless there is no help for it, should not supply the deficiency of troops caused by the refusal of congress to increase the army to numbers proper for the protection of the country and the punishment of these Indian bands whom the mismanagement of the general government has incited to hostility.

It was due to the intelligent activity and perseverance of Delegate Maginnis of Montana that the bill giving actual settlers and residents the privilege of taking from the public lands timber for mining and domestic purposes became a law. The bill passed both houses and on the 3d June was signed by the president. Hereafter it will not be an offence against the law for a settler to take wood from the public lands to build a shelter for his family and to cook their dinner. We have not seen the law but presume it applies to states as well as territories.

Had not the Northern Pacific railroad bill been made a foot ball for political purposes it would have been passed in proper form and a thousand men would now be at work on Pacific division.

THURSDAY MORNING JUNE 27 1878

CITY.

A SAFE BUSINESS.—Some [illegible] San Francisco have [illegible] say about the dangers of navigation on the route between that city and Portland and the [illegible] especially of the bar at the mouth of the Columbia. Some figures [illegible] a table recently published in the Bay city by Mr. [illegible] His secretary of the board of marine underwriters, however, ought to show [illegible] holders that the bar of the Columbia is much less danger us after than they have hitherto pronounced it. [illegible] marine underwriters on steam and [illegible] shipping between San Francisco and [illegible] and during the entire year [illegible] according to Mr Hopkins table was the [illegible] comparatively insignificant sum of [illegible] vessels between San Francisco [illegible] Against the losses aggregat[illegible] from San Francisco wharves inland [illegible] on Francisco Bay on sailing vessels [illegible] over $30,000 more than six times as much as is to the Columbia. Put that in your pipe Mrs. Alta, and smoke it.

PORTLAND AND OREGON.—Among other things, Senator Grover in his speech on the Northern Pacific railroad bill said of Portland and Oregon as follows: "The wheat market of Portland, Oregon, is as good as the wheat market of Chicago for the grain once on board at Portland is not handled again until it is delivered in Liverpool, which can be done in less than four months with the expense of simply seamen's wages, costing less than export rates from Chicago. No grain products grown west of the mountains will come east by the Northern Pacific railroad, but they will go west and find a quick and better market. Then we are the nearest point of supply to Japan and China, which do not produce wheat but consume much, and will in future consume a great deal. I make these allusions to show that farmers who go to Oregon are not going out of the world, but are going to a new world, and that there are two sides to this continent."

GRAND "HUDOO" AT SILETZ AGENCY.—On the Fourth there will be a grand celebration and parade at Siletz agency. The Indians have manifested great interest in the affair. Money has been raised amongst them and a large lot of fireworks purchased. Prof. [illegible] and his son William have charge of the affair. After a programme of exercises in the afternoon there will be a parade and a grand display of fireworks in the evening. We understand that our genial young friend L. B. Stearns has been invited to deliver him self of an oration on the occasion, wherein something is to be said about the American eagle. Such exhibitions are far more to be desired than depredations and murders which a great part of the Indians are at present engaged in.

FUGITIVE ARRESTED.—Tuesday, Sheriff [illegible] Harris of Logan county, Illinois, arrived in the city having in custody a young man named R. Cawthon, who was arrested a few days ago in Southern Oregon, mention of which was made in this paper. On reaching here, the prisoner was lodged in the county jail where he will remain until the sailing of the steamer Elder. Cawthon was arrested charged with forgery, alleged to have been committed in Logan county, Illinois. We understand that he was recently married to a young lady who resides in the southern portion of the state.

ARMY CORRECT.—In speaking of the order recently issued, requiring the military headquarters to be removed from Portland to Vancouver, the Advocate sensibly remarks: "The army headquarters are to be removed from this city to the garrison at Vancouver. This will take some of our best citizens from our midst, Gen Howard and staff will leave us. This may be the best thing for the country, and though we fail to see in what way, but it is certainly to the great regret of many friends and the loss of this city. We are sorry this change has been made."

NOTICE OF CONTEST.—It seems that all parties were not satisfied with the determined result of the late city election. Notice we learn, was served yesterday upon Henry [illegible], declared by the returning board of judges and clerks to be elected a member of the common council from the third ward, that E. Mendenhall would contest the election. The council being the judge of the qualifications of its members, the question raised by the contest will come before that body this evening or at some future meeting.

GOOD TARGET SHOOTING.—Several gentlemen, with some of the officers of the German American Rifle Club, went out to their park for practice, and the shooting was astonishingly good. Three centers and quite a number of bull's-eyes were made. The officers of the club are very attentive, and we can assure all friends of target shooting that they will enjoy a good afternoon if they visit their park. A great prize shooting will come off on the Fourth of July.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.—This evening the graduating exercises of the High school will take place at New Market theater. A few days ago the full programme was published in THE OREGONIAN, and its repetition in this connection is needless. The address to the graduates will be delivered by Hon. J. N. Dolph. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged. Reserved seats can be procured at [illegible] for 50 cents.

NUPTIALS.—By a dispatch received here yesterday it is learned that John M. [illegible], a young and promising attorney of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Matilda [illegible], at the residence of Col. Younger in San Jose, California. The best wishes of a host of friends attend the young and happy couple. May their future pathway ever be bright, their troubles few and their joys unnumbered.

A. O. H. ELECTION.—Last evening an election of officers was held by the members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at their hall. The following persons were chosen to serve for the ensuing year: President, M. Phelan; Vice President, John Gorman; Recording Secretary, James B. O'Shea; Financial Secretary, J. J. Byrnes; Treasurer, Ed Campion.

HONORABLY ACQUITTED.—In police court yesterday the case of Mrs Hedges was investigated, resulting in the honorable acquittal and discharge of the defendant. Mrs Hedges was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, and during the progress of the trial it became very apparent to the court that the charge was malicious and frivolous.

PROBABLY A BRUSH HEAP.—A bright light was seen last evening at an early hour some distance beyond East Portland. At first it was thought that a building was on fire, but at last the conclusion was arrived at that it was only a brush heap. From appearances the fire was located about a mile beyond East Portland.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH CONCERT.—In our notice of the concert yesterday morning, we omitted to mention a piano solo by Mr. [illegible] Coombs of Vancouver. It was rendered with a great deal of intelligence and displayed a considerable amount of [illegible]. This gentleman should be heard more [illegible].

A FINE COLT.—Yesterday morning, a fine young stallion two years old was [illegible] from this city [illegible] was purchased from Messrs. [illegible] House, of [illegible]. The price is not given, although we are [illegible] here it is a round one.

VERDICT.—In the [illegible] court yesterday in the case of Frank [illegible] vs. Joseph Gaston, a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs [illegible] and on a promissory note [illegible] the sum of $3[illegible] cost in the sum of $20[illegible]

CROP PROSPECTS.—A dispatch received yesterday from Walla Walla [illegible] grain is not affected any [illegible] this weather. It is cool [illegible] but the crops will be good. There [illegible] be an abundance of fruit.

[illegible] the [illegible] Mrs. Hodge, Whitehouse and [illegible] who have [illegible] towards the purchase of fire works [illegible] They give as a reason that [illegible] has been offered towards the [illegible] will return [illegible]

NO MORE [illegible] from the [illegible] Steam Navigation [illegible] [illegible] will hereafter [illegible]

DEPARTED.—[illegible] Wightman, who has been [illegible] for the past two years, recently [illegible] for [illegible] Mr. H. [illegible] [illegible] The doctor was well liked by those who knew him.

WILL ORATE.—Sidney Dell, Esq., a prominent lawyer of this city, has been invited to deliver the oration on the Fourth at the celebration to be held at Carlton, Yamhill county. He has sent [illegible] acceptance and will doubtless [illegible] in his usual [illegible] style.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—Excelsior Lodge No. [illegible] K. of P. elected the following officers to serve the ensuing term: [illegible] Neale, C. C.; [illegible] Gumpert, V. C.; W. H. Bitter, P. The new officers will be installed at the next meeting.

CHAPEAUX.—A dozen [illegible] stylish [illegible] caps have been received by the Northwestern band. They will add [illegible] to the appearance of the uniform.

Sixty five accessions were reported when he left and [illegible] not included in this list.

We received a call yesterday from J. S. Griffin of Hillsboro. Mr. Griffin was the founder of the settlement at Hillsboro and [illegible] was the first white woman in Washington county. He was formerly sent as missionary to the Indians on this coast, and filled for some time the position of chaplain of a regiment at Vancouver. Mr. Griffin came to this coast in 18[illegible].

Bryant's Chivalry

From the Chicago [illegible]

Mr. Bryant has not written many lines that have been universally adopted. But his [illegible] the immortal [illegible]

Truth crushed to earth shall rise again,
The eternal years of God are hers;
But Error, wounded, writhes with pain,
And dies among his worshippers.

It will be observed that the poet was [illegible] in assigning the appropriate sex in these lines.

Col. Bernard contradicts the report that his men pillaged many of the houses in Umatilla [illegible]. He gave orders in some instances to appropriate commissary stores and directed that receipts should be left for the same.

BEAUTY: OR THE
Secret of a Fair Face.

An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate, possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion. What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish. It can be done. It is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty and called

DISSENT IN OHIO

In the Republican convention of Ohio [illegible] the [illegible] on platform [illegible] ported a resolution [illegible] fully approving the course of President Hayes. It was [illegible] vehemently [illegible] by [illegible] of Franklin county who [illegible]

[illegible] administration has been [illegible] what [illegible] the man [illegible] undertake [illegible] of the south [illegible] defeat the only means [illegible] If [illegible] southern policy of the administration [illegible] policy by which a great party has been [illegible] pointed [illegible] hatred [illegible] have been turned over [illegible] of the rebels and [illegible] which conciliates Democrats [illegible] our friends [illegible] went through hell [illegible] Hayes [illegible] the executive office [illegible] of cold blooded ingratitude

Gen Beatty was followed by Mr Grosvenor of Athens county who defended the president in the following words

I deny that the president of the United States has been guilty of dishonorable treacherous or disgraceful conduct. Whether upon the battle field side by side with my friend from Franklin county fighting the rebel soldiers of the south, or in a position of public responsibility to which the people of Ohio have called him or in the higher place which the Republican party of the nation have assigned him I declare that his acts have been such that the language of the platform is too mild an encomium upon his faithful and patriotic conduct. This platform is not retroactive in its operation but undertakes to define the precise attitude of the Republican party of Ohio. Now when the Democratic party is seeking to destroy the government and precipitate a revolution it does not undertake to say that the president has made a mistake. If we are to contend here about a platform until every member of the convention is effectually suited we may as well disband now as at any other time for we will have to disband in the end anyhow. There must be concession. There is nothing in the platform that stultifies the action of any gentleman with regard to his opinion of the civil service reform or the southern policy. We have opened wide our platform upon which all our friends can stand and organize and I submit whether you will go back on your committee on resolutions

Beatty and his supporters were out voted and the resolution indorsing Hayes was adopted. When the convention adjourned they seemed more excited than ever and in groups stood about the hotels by turns denouncing first Hayes and the administration and then the convention

PERSONAL AND GENERAL

Madame Hahnemann the widow of the founder of homœopathy died recently in Paris at the age of 78

Mr Edison is going to Pennsylvania to rest —and get away from curiosity hunters and lunatics, he is quoted as saying

Sidney Smith once rebuked a swearing visitor by saying Let us assume that every thing and everybody are damned and proceed with our subject

It is stated upon the authority of carefully gathered statistics that in the past fifty years France has lost 10 000 000 children who have died from preventable causes

Burlington Hawk Eye It is believed now that Anderson has three or four more confessions signed in blank for Samuel the Tilden to fill out as the occasion may require

Louisville Courier Journal Hayes new secretary of Idaho is named Sidebotham. Why the deuce didn t they name him Sidetopandbotham and cover the whole case?

Atlanta Constitution It would pay John Sherman to follow the example of Bishop McCoskry. A man with one hundred witnesses is always guilty even if he is as innocent as Beecher

Nashville paper The Republican party sends a lot of carpet baggers into Florida and Louisiana to contest the election returns and when they peach on the party they style it a new southern rebellion

Springfield Republican Sweet is revenge. Mr Hayes made up his cabinet without saying a word to Zach Chandler. Mr Chandler held his convention at Detroit yesterday and said not a word about Mr Hayes

Mr Froude, the historian, recently addressed a letter to Dr Newman in which he says that "the principle of gravitation is only looked upon now as a hypothesis by all careful minds and further, that it would be far better if all mankind could agree "to hold their opinions as mere hypotheses

Wanted a Man to "Sit with Sal"

[From the Virginia Chronicle]

Yesterday afternoon a green looking couple evidently newly married called at the photograph gallery of Beals & Waterhouse and wanted their pictures taken. Just as Mr Beals got his plate ready the man pulled him aside and wanted to ask him a favor. I was told in Carson you took the best pictures in the state. Now you see Sal and I got hitched down there last Monday now, you see, her folks go a good deal on style and they live in the states. They never saw me and if I send my mug back east they ll be dead agin me sure. I m a darned sight better than I look, and when people know me they vote me a brick. Now what I want is to get some good lookin' man to sit with Sal for a picture. Will you stand in? She s willin. Them big whiskers of your s will catch em sure and create harmony. You look like a solid capitalist, and they d take me for a petty larceny thief. Mr Beals enjoyed the idea immensely, and sat with Sal for a picture which will doubtless carry joy into the household of the eastern relatives in a week or so

DR. PAUL R. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL Chronic and Difficult Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness

DR. BRENAN has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest by an entirely new system only known to himself Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand and the patient need not fear the result.

DR BRENAN will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable

THE DOCTOR has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION Persons coming to Portland requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of [illegible] who may try to coax them away to their so called doctors through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR PAUL R BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door
